

MUNRO & PATRICK

With reputations as two of the hardest working and consistent artists in Western Canada, Heidi Munro and Scott Patrick have quickly gained notoriety as a power duo with magnetic stage chemistry and passionate, high-energy performance.

After successful solo careers, Munro & Patrick began writing together, melding the styles and influences that have inspired them throughout their careers. Flavours of roots, soul, traditional country, rock, and jazz permeate throughout the songs that they create. Lyrically the songs address the emotions of life—Love, loss, nostalgia, and imagination. Their debut album “Give Me Your Rain”, was voted the #6 album in Saskatchewan, 2022, with a style reminiscent of Chris Stapleton, Emmy Lou Harris, but at times very Beth Hart, and Joe Cocker. Whether they are on stage with only their voices and an acoustic guitar or backed by a stellar band, Munro & Patrick draw audiences in with pin drop moments, and capture them with swampy, infectious rock n roll.

Reviews/Articles

We Happily booked Munro & Patrick, Jack Semple and Chris Henderson at the EA Rawlinson Centre for the Arts on October 24, 2020. What a gift of music, positivity, talent, and storytelling our audience got to enjoy! Aside from the obvious and amazing talent, this group of artists is also committed to advocating for our astounding entertainment industry and other artists. The audience left that night with smiles, spirits lifted, and grateful for the excellent show these artists provided. Many thanks to them!

“Give Me Your Rain” is the title track from Munro Patricks’ first studio album. The acoustic, dynamic, and driving roots blues melody, (featuring very tasty slide guitar), combined with gritty and heart wrenching vocals, take this song to another level. At times tender and intimate, and in the next breath, overflowing with rock influenced soul. The raw and honest lyrics are the backbone to the song and evoke a longing to be woken and live free.
Blues and Roots Radio, The Sound Cafe

“We were wowed by their singing and song writing ability and the wide variety of music they offer. Heidi and Scott are super personable and put on a fun and entertaining performance. An unforgettable performance...an unforgettable evening.”
